Your Duty Of Disclosure

You have a legal duty of disclosure to us whenever you apply for, or change an insurance policy.

What You Must Tell Us

You have a general duty to disclose to us everything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to our decision whether to insure you, and, if we do, on what terms.

However, your duty does not require you to disclose anything:

- that reduces the risk to be undertaken by us;
- that is generally well known;
- that we know or, in the ordinary course of our business, ought to know; or
- in respect of which we have waived your duty.

If You Do Not Tell Us

If you do not answer our questions honestly or do not properly disclose to us, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or may cancel the policy. If you act fraudulently in answering our questions or not disclosing to us, we may refuse to pay a claim or treat the policy as never having existed.

Your General Duty Applies To Changes

Your general duty applies in full when you change or reinstate the insurance policy.

Your General Duty Is Limited For New Policies

When you apply for a new policy your duty of disclosure applies, but you do not need to disclose something to us unless we specifically ask you about it. However, you must be honest in answering any questions we ask you.

You have a legal duty to tell us anything you know, and which a reasonable person in your circumstances would include in answering the questions. We will use the answers in deciding whether to insure you and anyone else to be insured under the policy, and on what terms.

It is important that you understand you are disclosing to us and answering our questions for yourself and anyone else you want to be covered by the policy.

- White Water Rafting
- Ballooning
- Paragliding

Cooling Off Period

You have the right to cancel the policy by notifying the Providing Entity in writing within 15 working days (i.e. Monday to Friday excluding public holidays where you are) of the date the policy was issued to you ("cooling off period").

Provided the circumstances specified in paragraphs (a) or (b) below do not apply, you are entitled, during the cooling off period, to a complete refund of the amount you have paid for the policy. You are not entitled to a refund if, during the cooling off period, you:

- a) make a claim under the policy; or
- b) cancel the policy after the commencement of the journey.

If you are entitled to a refund the Providing Entity will provide the refund.

When And How Benefits Are Provided

The benefits for which you are insured under this policy are payable:

- when an insured event occurs during the period of insurance causing you to suffer loss or damage or incur legal liability; and
- your claim is accepted by us.

After calculating the amount payable we will either:

- pay for replacement (after allowing for depreciation) or repair of your personal luggage;
- pay for specified additional expenses;
- pay the person to whom you are legally liable; or
- pay you.

The Amount You Pay For This Insurance

You can obtain a quote from the Providing Entity. The amount we charge you for this insurance policy is the total amount of the premium that we calculate to cover the risk and any relevant government charges (such as GST and stamp duty). These amounts add up to the total amount you must pay.

Once the policy is issued your total premium and any relevant government charges are shown on the Certificate of Insurance.

If you change your policy in any way you may be entitled to a partial premium refund or required to pay an additional amount.

How Various Factors Affect The Amount Payable

We consider a number of factors in calculating the total amount payable. The key factors that affect the amount you pay include the plan, the area to which you are travelling, your age, the excess, the duration of your journey and whether you take out additional cover.

The following is a guide on how these factors combine together and may impact on the assessment of risk, and therefore your premium.

- Plan – the International Plan IB, which provides more cover, costs more than the domestic plans.
- Area – higher risk areas cost more.
- Age – Plan IB costs more for some travellers who represent a higher risk.
- Excess – the higher the excess the lower the cost.

- Duration – the longer your trip the more it usually costs.
- Extra Cover Options – additional premium may apply.

Extending Your Journey

Having too much fun? If you wish to be insured for longer than the original period you must purchase a new policy through the original Providing Entity prior to the expiry of the original policy. It is not an extension of the previous policy.

Should a medical condition first present itself prior to the time of issue of the new policy it may be considered an existing medical condition under the new policy and therefore may not be automatically covered by the new policy. Purchasing a longer duration policy up front can avoid this risk.

How A Claim Payment Is Calculated

When we pay a claim we consider a number of aspects in calculating the amount.

These can include:

- the amount of loss or damage or liability;
- the excess;
- maximum benefit limits and sub-limits;
- reasonable depreciation; and
- the terms and conditions of the policy.

The following example illustrates how we will calculate the amount payable for a claim:

- your new camera worth $250 is stolen from a hotel room.
- you are travelling on the International Plan IB.
- you have chosen the nil excess option.
- you have not paid an additional amount to increase the standard item limit.

The amount payable following the claim would be calculated as follows:

- consider the value of the camera – $250 (No depreciation applies because the camera was new).
- consider the maximum benefit limit for Luggage and Travel Documents - $3,000.
- consider the maximum item limit payable for luggage items – $200. The maximum limit does apply in this case.
- as you have chosen the nil excess option, no excess is deducted. This results in an amount payable of $200.

The Amount You Pay Towards A Claim

You may be required to pay an amount in the event of a claim. This is called an excess. The amount of excess may vary depending on the travel plan chosen.

You may also have an option to choose from a range of excesses.

Your applicable excess level will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

In some circumstances we may require you to pay an additional excess for some medical conditions. We will inform you in writing if this excess applies. This is only a summary of how excesses will be applied. For full details please refer to the Policy Wording.
